It began summer '07. Brother/Sister team, Brad and Jessica Lauretti of the Brooklyn staple "This Frontier Needs Heroes" signed on as music curators at Dam, Stuhltrager. The curators gathered the hottest names in Brooklyn's emerging music scene and crowds packed Dam, Stuhltrager's Garden to catch rising stars under the open sky. Spider, Miguel Mendez, Paul Duncan, Company & Lights headlined and a summer music tradition was born.

In '08, the music series returned to Dam, Stuhltrager, doubled in size and sizzled with the hottest in emerging music. Mixel Pixel, Phonograph, Marcellus Hall, Geology, Elizabeth Harper, Sam Jayne and Tigers & Monkeys led a roster of names making critics and fan's lips move.

Now in its third year, the legacy rocks on.
